

Busy weekend

Well over 6,000 persons jammed the County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton over the weekend for a variety of events. The American Contract Bridge League held a three-day tournament in the cafeteria with between 700 and 1,000 competing. At least one lady was quite pensive over the hand she had. The CB Operators Convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the Exhibition Hall, picnic and parking areas attracted 4,000 from throughout Northern California. Numerous clubs displayed equipment and conducted exhibitions of the latest in CB hardware. A dance was held Friday night and television and recording artist Mac Davis made a guest appearance Saturday night. Swine flu shots were available Sunday and 1,528 valley and East Bay residents took advantage of the service. The flu shots will be offered again next Sunday.

Incumbents ahead in money race

Alameda County Bureau
OAKLAND — Nearly all incumbents dominate the financial race for re-election in the latest and last campaign filing before Tuesday's election.

Only Bay Area Rapid Transit District Director Bob Allen trails the challenger. Allen has collected $342, but has bills totalling $1,835. The bulk of his $1,493 deficit stems from $965 in legal expenses incurred in his defense and countersuit against challenger John R. McCordle.

The two sparred over what Allen alleged "illegal" campaign signs posted by McCordle.

In the bid for first district supervisor, incumbent John D. Murphy has gathered $23,398 since the June 8 primary, including a $15,000 loan from the Bank of Fremont.

Murphy's re-election campaign has spent some $14,700 since last month's filing, leaving him with a total $9,026 surplus.

Challenger Valerie Raymond, who ran against him four years ago in her first bid for public office, lists $11,123 in receipts and $9,700 in expenses. Her gross deficit including the Sept. 20 filing shows her $1,571 behind.

Assemblyman Floyd Mori, facing his first re-election bid since the former Pleasanton Mayor succeeded the late Carlos Bee, has collected $8,587 since the primary and spent $8,587. Adding in his old surplus gives him a balance of $19,237.

Opponent David Funsch, who trailed Mori badly in previous financial filings, failed to meet the Oct. 23 deadline. He is subject to a $10 per day late filing fine if he fails to comply with the county registrar of voters notice.

Murphy's $15,000 loan from the bank of Fremont, borrowed at the "prime rate" of 6 3/4 per cent, is guaranteed by Rhodes and Jamieson Gravel Company executive George W. Jamieson of Oakland and Concord contractor Kenneth Hofman.

Murphy also lent his re-election committee $1,500 after it re-paid an earlier $1,841 loan.

Contract agreement—teachers must approve

Final settlement on the 1976-77 teachers contract between Amador Valley Joint High School District teachers and the district board is not expected before Wednesday of next week.

A tentative agreement on the contract was reached early Saturday morning after a 17-hour session involving mediator Mike West, teacher and administration negotiators.

Key issues apparently resolved include binding arbitration of grievances, salary and agency shop.

The tentative contract must now be reviewed and voted on by the representative council of the Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association (AVSEA). They will recommend approval or non-approval prior to unit members balloting.

At the same time, board members and administration will be reviewing details of the tentative settlement arrived at 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

Jim Eaton, president of AVSEA, predicted it would take a couple of days to have the contract details printed up for teacher unit members to vote on. AVSEA officers would then go over contract terms with the teachers prior to their vote.

Superintendent Bruce Newlin Monday said it would be the end of the present week or the first of next week before the board was ready to make a determination on the contract terms. No board members were present when the marathon mediation session was concluded Saturday.

Upon mutual agreement, details of the prospective settlement were not released. Contract terms will be released when both sides ratify the pact.

Newlin cited the work of state mediator West in bringing both sides to settlement terms.

However, the issue of 144 Amador district teachers receiving letters of reprimand (for observing a minimum day Sept. 22) is a separate issue and still to be settled.

Teachers staged a mill-in Friday to register their protest of the administration action.

Newlin said "a few" teachers had already turned in response letters that will be stapled to the reprimand letters in their personnel files.

Eaton said last week AVSEA ultimately wants the reprimand letters removed from personnel files.

While Amador may be on the brink of settlement, two other valley districts were split over the same contract terms—binding arbitration of grievances, salary and agency shop.

Murray has been in mediation the last three weeks, with West handling the conciliator's role, and Pleasanton teachers are awaiting the next round of negotiations.

Council reviews growth plan to set goals

PLEASANTON — The city council will receive a report tonight which calls on it to narrow down a little further the ultimate goals of the city's growth management plan.

The idea is to give the staff direction on its long march to finally setting down the city's definite growth control plan on paper.

The staff has raised a variety of issues in outlining some of the more serious problems the policy makers face in determining the future shape of the city.

For example, the general plan adopted in February declares the policy of the city as recognizing benchmark populations of 43,300 for 1986 and 48,700 for 1996 with an ultimate population of 76,000. The staff report lists nine alternatives and questions relevant to achieving those benchmarks.

Among the alternatives: average 200 units a year for the entire development period or for the period to each benchmark; provide an average rate over a shorter period, say two, three or five years; use a variable growth rate depending on the desirability of development proposals in any given period; or project development "needs" for any given period of time and try to meet them.

Other thorny questions arising just from the adopted benchmarks include the practicality of the 76,000 population limit, how commercial and industrial development will be regulated, and how development should be measured—along lines of water quality standards, air quality standards, or purely in terms of population.

Other important policy decisions will lie in the area of specific development, said the staff. The council may have to decide whether there will be a time limit on building permits so that the growth management plan can be implemented better.

The council may have to set up its own priority list of annexations, too, with thought given to Happy Valley Road, Dublin, Mohr Avenue, and the city of Hayward's land on the ridge-tops.

The staff raised a long list of interesting questions about "open space", that much discussed topic in recent years.

Does open space mean no development of any kind, asked the staff. Should all land above a certain elevation be kept open space? Should all land over 20, 25, or 30 per cent be devoid of development? Should the city begin acquisition and banking of prime agricultural land, should it buy development rights, scenic easements on open lands, should it seek actively to put lands in Williamson Act preserves?

On the topic of industrial development, the staff asks whether only "fiscally positive" development should be allowed.

Another consideration is to ban all industry which would encourage in-commuting. Perhaps no new industry should be approved unless a certain percentage of its work force can afford to live in Pleasanton, the staff suggests.

Other topics in the report include housing, public health and safety, and transportation. Public facilities and citizens participation are topics also

Table lists effects of growth plan

PLEASANTON — When council members start to make important decisions about how the city's growth management plan should be implemented, they will have a handy, read-at-a-glance table to show them consequences of any possible course of action.

The table was prepared by the planning staff and included in a 13 page report given council members over the weekend. The council soon will have to make some decisions which give direction to the planning staff as it gets further into the nuts and bolts of drawing up the final management plan.

The management plan is the result of the Environmental Protection Agency's edict that Pleasanton may not grow more than 2 per cent per year. Given the population limits that implies, the city council has determined to draw up as rational a policy as possible in attaining the population limits. Much of the document is expected to be guided by the financial considerations of development, since the city is pinched by having little property tax revenue from industrial or commercial development.

The staff's growth management decision chart lists 19 objectives of the general plan which was adopted in February and lists 19 techniques for achieving those goals. Some techniques have beneficial results on some of the goals and adverse or neutral impacts on other goals, so the chart is a lifesaver when it comes to looking at one technique's impact on the big picture.

For example, the technique of large lot zoning is beneficial to regulating the rate of growth in the city, preserving desired open space areas, and regulating the location of new growth. But that technique can create results contrary to other announced goals of the general plan, for example, encouraging energy conservation, and ensuring a variety of housing pricing and location.

Looking at the chart another way, one could single out a goal, for example, ensuring a variety of housing price, and read down the list to see which techniques help or hurt it or are neutral.

Population limits, large lot zoning, downzoning residential densities (especially multiples) would hurt the goal of mixing housing prices. Techniques which would help that goal would be setting mandatory criteria for a housing mixture, encouraging housing subsidies, and awarding density incentives to developers.

Park and rec could close Bonita Park

PLEASANTON — Bonita Park on Foothill Road used to be the city's prime nature park, but now it is frequented by bikers and dopers and the city may give it up.

The woody park on the banks of the Arroyo de la Lagunawas a haven for picnickers and nature study classes for years, but the addition of two East Bay Regional Park District parks, Sunol Regional and Shadow Cliffs, has cut down usage of Bonita Park to a point where the problems seem to outweigh the benefits. The city's park and recreation commission will review the situation at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the City Council Chambers, 30 W. Angela St. and determine a recommendation to the city council about the park's future.

The commission is concerned about rising maintenance costs for the park, which is leased from the City and County of San Francisco for a nominal annual fee. Many youths have frequented the park, especially at night, and vandalism costs to picnic tables and other features has been high.

Crime stings Sunol merchants: 'No patrols'

Merchants in the serene town of Sunol are up in arms with the Santa Rita Sheriff Department and are making plans to do something about the lack of security being offered to the area.

"They are forcing us out of business," stated one merchant as he was loading his truck with merchandise from his store to put it in storage until he can find another town to open up his business.

"The Main Street Furniture Company," dealing in antiques was robbed sometime Sunday between the hours of 1 a.m. and 8 a.m. losing approximately $700 in merchandise and had a $400 window broken. This is the second time in two weeks that the business has been hit.

"We knew who did it the first time," said the owner of the antique shop, "but we didn't press charges as the father of the boy said he would take care of the damages which he did."

"We called the sheriff's department at 8 a.m. this morning about this robbery," said a merchant and they didn't arrive on the scene until 10:30 a.m. Yet they tell us the sheriff's department patrols our area every hour."

The "Temple Bar" was also hit last night with an entire back wall being torn off the building. "I guess they became discouraged and left when they saw it did not get them directly into the bar," said this merchant.

She claims their business has been robbed nine times in the nine years they have been in Sunol and that "the sheriff's department never did a thing about any of it. They don't care or even follow up when you give them the name of the person who did it."

The local food store was robbed a few weeks ago and had $200 worth of alcoholic beverages taken. "Whoever took it," said the son of the proprietor of the business, "went across the street to drink it and left all the empty bottles there. Now if the sheriff's department came by every hour they would have seen our broken window and seen the booze being drunk."

The food store has been robbed a number of times since being located in Sunol, but feel "it has gotten worse the last few months. We just boarded up our windows and have no intentions of replacing them," he said.

The "Hay and Grain" store, new to the area in April of this year was robbed in July during the day. They were cleaned out of a ton of dog food. "They had to drive a truck in here to get it," claimed the clerk on duty, "because it was in 50 and 40 pound bags." In fact," he went on, "we know they came back a second time." He too has no faith in getting help from the sheriff's department.

The stories go on and on and it's the census of opinion if things don't get better businesses are going to close their doors and head elsewhere. "Somewhere where the law is enforced," stated one merchant.

Waterworks a landmark

SUNOL — The Alameda Creek Water Development of the San Francisco Water Department will be honored as a California Historic Civil Engineering Landmark in ceremonies this week.

On Thursday at 10:30 a.m., the American Society of Civil Engineers will present a plaque to the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission designating the landmark status.

James E. McCarty, president of the ASCE's San Francisco section and director of public works for the City of Oakland, will award the plaque in ceremonies to be held at historic Sunol Cottage at the water department's Alameda Division headquarters.

Dating back to 1846, it is the second water department facility to be honored as a landmark. The first was the 80-year-old Crystal Springs Dam in San Mateo County on May 20.

The Alameda Creek development is the first major municipal water supply west of the Mississippi that involved the use of a significantly distant source of water. It consists of the Niles Dam and Aqueduct, Sunol Dam and Niles Canyon Aqueduct, Pleasanton Wells, Calaveras Reservoir, and the Sunol Water Temple and filter galleries.

The system's history dates back to 1846, when a 3,500-foot stone aqueduct was constructed to carry water to a grist mill near the old settlement of Niles. The mill was operated by Jose de Jesus Vallejo, brother of General Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo.

In 1875, the Spring Valley Water Company, privately owned predecessor to the San Francisco Water Department, began acquiring water properties in Alameda County, including the Vallejo mills property.

Today the San Francisco Water Department owns more than 40,000 acres of water producing and storage land in Alameda and Santa Clara counties, much of it rich in historical heritage.

The department has added a major dam and reservoir, a modern water filtration plant, pumping stations, and large pipelines associated with the Hetch Hetchy Aqueduct.

The holdings includes the land received in a grant for Rancho El Valle de San Jose by Don Antonio Sunol in 1840.

The existing cottage at the Sunol headquarters is the site of the home built in 1854 by Jose Narciso Sunol, Don Antonio's son.

Loose lips stir Pleasanton council

PLEASANTON — Rigid guidelines for a council member's free expression are being proposed for city council review tonight.

If adopted, the policy would prohibit a council liaison from expressing his or her own opinions at a commission meeting where he or she is acting as a council liaison. Council members also would be prohibited from issuing their own press releases on city stationary, something which has occurred from time to time in the past.

A couple of recent council actions apparently prompted the proposed new policy.

Councilman Frank Brandes expressed his opinions about why people flee core cities and live in suburbs like Pleasanton. He expressed them at a housing authority meeting where he was acting as the city council's liaison.

Vice-mayor Joyce LeClaire made strong objections to the press about Brandes' behavior. She issued her statement on city stationary.

Both actions would be forbidden under the council's proposed policy.

The policy draft states that press releases on local issues should not be processed through city hall. The items ought to be discussed openly at public meetings before all council members, says the release. That would allow all council members a chance to respond and clarify their positions.

Any personal letter to the editor sort of statements should specifically state that its opinions represent only the views of the council member, says the draft.

The document also states that any council member who violates the confidentiality of an executive session on personnel or law suits may be barred from future executive sessions and may be censured formally.

The mission of the city council liaison to city commissions is to bring previously adopted council sentiment to those commissions and report back what the commission has to say.

In cases where there is no city council view on an issue, the liaison is not to give his or her own views, but to bring the question to the council's attention, then return with the answer at the next commission meeting.

The policy draft claims that a council member has a great ability to influence commissioners and staff, so individual opinions should not be ventured at those meetings.

If a council member has some correspondence for someone on the staff or council, carbon copies shall go to all council members and the city manager, city attorney and other staff people deemed appropriate. It will be up to the council member to see that it's done.

The procedural guidelines also suggest that during meetings council members should make motions and keep their discussions to the point and as brief as possible.

Living memorial

America's Medal of Honor winners were honored yesterday with the planting of a memorial redwood tree in front of the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Livermore. John F. Kane, Major James A. Taylor and Hospital Director James Fleenor assisted in the Veterans' Day observance. Major Taylor of Livermore is a Medal of Honor winner. The plaque reads: "This tree dedicated by the Veterans Administration in 1976 to America's Medal of Honor recipients who helped make this Bicentennial observance possible 'By gallantry above and beyond the call of duty.'"

Border boss speaks

PLEASANTON — Northern California's chief border patrol officer will be the guest speaker at the local chamber of commerce luncheon at noon today at Hap's Restaurant.

Herb Walsh, a seven year veteran of California border patrol activity, is in charge of operations in the 49 northern counties from Kern County to the Oregon border.

Chamber spokesman Mark Gerton also notes an address by assemblyman Floyd Mori at Thursday's Rotary Club meeting, also at Hap's Restaurant. Mori, facing re-election in next week's run-off, will speak on economic impacts on the state.

Mori, a former economics professor at Chabot College, is chairman of the assembly sub-committee on employment and economic development in the state.

Board moves on Murray

Conversion or status quo?

Murray School District board members will begin the task of determining what future course to take in regards housing of seventh and eighth graders when they convene Wednesday night at Dublin School.

The special study session of the Citizens Advisory Committee report begins at 8 p.m.

Trustees are scheduled to go into a closed personnel session at the conclusion of the meeting. Board president Ted Woy indicated earlier this month, however, that they would probably not come to a final decision on the report until late November.

The CAC has recommended conversion of Dublin School, now a K-6 school, to strictly seventh and eighth grade.

The recommendation is consistent with policy approved several years ago (by a previous board) calling for an organizational setup of K-6 and 7-8 schools. At present, Wells Intermediate on Penn Drive is the lone 7-8 school while Nielson, Donlon and Dublin are K-8 and Frederiksen, Cronin, Fallon, Murray and Lydixen are K-6.

While conversion of Dublin could optimize instruction and materials for more seventh and eighth graders, it would be necessary to realign attendance boundaries and bus Dublin K-6 students to other district schools.

The board received the report almost a month ago at a meeting attended by 175 persons at Donlon School.

LET ROSE 'N' FLO DO THE WORK!

a different drummer

By Arline Butterfield

The brochure had stated that hypnosis is a sleeplike condition in which a person allows his conscious mind to become passive, which allows suggestions given by the hypnotist, to pass through his conscious mind into the dim and vast inner recesses of his subconscious mind.

I was intrigued by the idea of entering that cerebral no-man's land, and decided to attend the hypnosis session offered by a local social group.

But as I entered the building I wondered if I might be one of those whose inner mind could not be reached, or if I really wanted it to be... But the brochure had gone on to assure that virtually anyone can be hypnotized, and that people with vivid imaginations were the best subjects and were also the most cooperative. So I sat down and waited for the cranial safari to begin.

"You are very relaxed — You do not feel anxious — You are alert to every word I say. Your legs are relaxed clear down to your feet."

Yeah, I thought to myself, the brochure had said hypnosis was a state of relaxation accompanied by a pleasant numbness throughout the body. In that case my left leg is hypnotized already.

The soothing voice droned on. "Now everyone here who wishes to stop smoking, after this session is over the sight and the taste of cigarettes will be repulsive to you. You will substitute water. You are perfectly relaxed. You haven't a worry in the world."

No, I'm not worried about myself because I don't smoke. But what about chain smokers substituting a glass of water for every cigarette they smoke. Eighty glasses of water a day? That could be a problem. Think of their water bill. Oh, oh. I forgot to concentrate on being hypnotized.

"Breathe deeply and evenly. You are very very relaxed. But your mind is alert. Keep your eyes closed and relax...relax..."

Yes, here I am relaxed. My eyes are closed. The trouble is I feel the world tipping on its axis. I better open my eyes. No, I better not, since I'm supposed to be hypnotized.

"All of you who wish to lose weight, when you leave this meeting, food you formerly liked will look and taste repulsive to you. You will substitute water."

I don't think I want to. I want to lose weight, but water for the rest of my life? Even prisoners get bread with theirs. I won't pay attention. I wonder if anyone would notice if I opened my eyes...

"Your eyes are closed. Your body is perfectly relaxed. You're alert to every word I say. I repeat: Food you formerly liked will look and taste repulsive to you. You will substitute water."

I'll just be aloof to all this because I don't seem to be hypnotized anyway. Am I one of those who cannot be put under a hypnotic spell, whose inner consciousness cannot be found? Oh dear, my nose itches but I can't seem to find my hands. I know they're in my lap somewhere all loose and relaxed, but absolutely useless for scratching my nose. Relax, nose, relax. It worked. The itch went away or else it was a fly taking off. It really is too bad I can't be hypnotized.

"You're very relaxed. You feel very good. By the count of five you will be awake. One. You are experiencing a feeling of well-being. Two. Your mind is more alert with each number. You will remember everything I have told you. Three. Your muscles feel strong and powerful. Four. You feel very well. Five. You are totally awake. Open your eyes. The session is ended."

Yes, here I am opening my eyes when I am told, yet I wasn't hypnotized. I'm just a very cooperative person. Funny how blurry the room is except for that plate of chocolate cookies on the refreshment table. They are getting closer. No, I seem to be moving toward them. A hand is reaching out toward the cookies. I think it is my hand. Quick. A glass of water. Remember. Water? You will substitute water. The voice said so. But there goes my hand. It's grabbing a handful of cookies. It is stuffing them in my mouth.

But the brochure clearly stated that one cannot be forced to do anything against one's will under hypnosis. Something's gone wrong. No, no. Not another handful of cookies! People are looking at the empty cookie plate and the crumbs all over my face.

The meeting is over. Turn toward the door. Go straight home. No? Go to the nearest super market? Get more cookies? This is crazy. Don't turn that way. You'll be sick tomorrow. You don't care? This can't be happening... Water...Water...

Safeguard little goblins

Halloween is a favorite evening for children. However, too often this night is marred by accidents and injuries.

Safe practices are not intended to take the fun out of Halloween. But, parents, motorists and homeowners should be aware that excited children are rarely cautious. The Dublin Junior Women's Club offers the following tips:

PARENTS — Children should trick or treat in groups of four or five with an older responsible person.

Don't make or buy costumes that are too loose or too big. In place of masks use cosmetics and burnt cork to paint the masks on faces. Vision is then not obstructed.

Avoid dark costumes. If the children insist on them, use reflecting tape or liquid paint that shines in the dark or reflects light so that motorists may see the children crossing streets.

Do not allow the child to carry sharp or pointed instruments.

MOTORISTS — Motorists should keep in mind that groups of youngsters will be roaming the streets in search of fun. Many will be dressed in dark costumes that may be hard to see. When driving on Halloween, slow down. Excited children dart between parked cars, cross in the middle of streets and do not look both ways.

HOMEOWNERS — Light your property so youngsters don't trip over stairs or other obstacles.

Bring pets inside at dark — bands of noisy youngsters may excite them.

HOW TO FIREPROOF COSTUMES AT HOME — Dip costumes in solution of 9 oz. borax, 4 ounces boric acid and one gallon of water. Wring by hand and hang to dry. Repeat after each wearing or washing.

A Junior is

"A Junior is someone who ... gives her mind to broaden herself as well as those around her... gives her hands to show many how to be useful to themselves and others ... gives her heart to help those who benefit from her special talents and effort ... gives her whole being first to her family and herself, and then to helping her community grow."

The San Ramon-Dublin Junior Women's Club will host prospective members Wednesday, Oct. 27 at the home of Karen Burke, 177 Joaquin Circle, San Ramon from 10 a.m. to noon. Call Joy Milliken at 828-7380 or Barbara Clark at 828-8281 for details.

Class helps women begin or resume their education

A class for women over 30 will again be offered at Chabot College of Hayward during its winter quarter beginning Jan. 3.

The program is designed for women interested in beginning or returning to a college education, as well as women interested in upgrading vocational skills or finding a more demanding new career.

Women completing the course taught by Barbara Garfinkle, a Chabot College counselor, will earn four units of college credit. No previous education is required, but students should enjoy reading, writing and participating in classroom discussion.

Broad topics to be covered include personal values, opportunities, in education, interpersonal relationships and vocational exploration.

Students may apply for enrollment in "Psychology 16" through the Livermore Valley Campus of Chabot College at 455-5300, Ext. 12.

Valley Women meet

Barbara Bailey will address the Valley Women's Club on traveling in Japan Tuesday, Oct. 26 at the home of Myrna Chase, 655 Jade Place, Livermore.

Valley women are welcome to the 9:30 a.m. program. Playschool facilities are available for children aged two months through six years. Reservations must be made with Mitze Kashiwamura at 447-6962 before 2 p.m. Monday prior to the meeting.

For information contact Karen Taylor at 443-7385.

New format for Mardi Gras '77

The Mardi Gras Season, sponsored by the Pleasanton Junior Women's Club, will take on a new format this year.

A spectacular Monte Carlo Night will be held on Feb. 5 at the Exhibition Building on the Alameda County Fairgrounds with clubs throughout the city participating.

This one big event takes the place of the traditional activities held during Mardi Gras time to raise money for the community. Each club will be responsible for its own fund raiser. The club raising the most money will be honored at the ball.

There will not be any king or queen reigning over the ball scheduled for Castlewood Country Club on Feb. 19. Tickets for the dinner-ball will go on sale in January with a limited number available.

Clubs which have not been contacted and would be interested in having a booth for their own benefit or would like to raise money for a particular cause are requested to contact Mary Harvey, 846-3995 or Connie Heitman, 846-588 846-5856.

Letters were sent to a variety of clubs announcing a different date for Mont Carlo Night, however, the correct date is Feb. 5. Further questions or information concerning the "night" or "ball" may also be directed to the above Juniors.

LET ROSE 'N FLO DO THE WORK!

NO PARTY TOO BIG OR SMALL!

Shelly Adamson casts a spell at the Livermore Jaycees Pumpkin Festival.

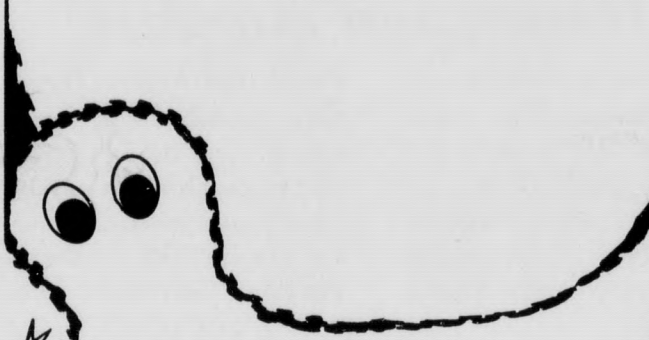

John Creamer and Barbara will give you the scare of your life at the YMCA's Haunted House in Pleasanton this week.

Brian Hanson of Good Times 4-H for the mentally retarded hoists a Halloween prize.

Happy Halloween from Zucchini Lady Maxine Plastino of Livermore. (It's a round zucchini!)

HALLOWEEN IS A WORLD OF MAKE-BELIEVE, where witches and goblins their 'chantments weave.

The spine-tingling excitement is to be found at its height at the valley's two major Haunted House productions — one sponsored by the Livermore Jaycees at The Barn on Pacific Avenue in Livermore, the other sponsored by Twin Valley YMCA at 287 Rose Avenue in Pleasanton.

For the scare of your life try the Livermore Jaycees Haunted House this week from 6 to 9 each evening, or Saturday and Sunday from 6 to 11 p.m. The show, at $1 per person is not recommended for very young impressionable children, but is guaranteed to thrill pre-teens, teens and adults. If the goblins get to you before you enter, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Doors at the YMCA Haunted House creak open tonight and weekdays from 5 to 9 p.m., Saturday from 1 to 9 p.m., and Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. Two Dublin drama groups will populate the house with spooks, and a carnival will offer games of skill. Admission is 75 cents.

Little goblins will squeal with frightful delight at the Alisal School Haunted House tonight from 5 to 7 p.m., Thursday and Friday from 3 to 6 p.m. Fifty cents gives them two trips through the house and free popcorn. The Alisal PTA sponsors a spaghetti dinner during those hours.

Costume judging and carnival games are featured Saturday from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Livermore Presbyterian Church. Sonoma Avenue PTA sponsors a Halloween auction and carnival Friday from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. (auction at 7 o'clock).

The Stayman convention in some form or other is used by at least 99 per cent of experts and at least 90 per cent of tournament players. In its basic form it accomplishes two objects. First, it allows partner of the opening notrump bidder to sign off at two diamonds, hearts or spades or at three clubs. Second, it makes it easy to find a 4-4 major suit fit after a notrump opening.

The two-club response to an opening notrump is artificial and forcing. It shows at least eight high-card points and promises a second bid. It also shows at least four cards in one major suit.

North has a minimum Stayman response and rebids two notrump over South's two spades. South has a maximum 18-point notrump. Since he knows that North holds four hearts (remember you don't respond Stayman unless you have at least four cards in one major) South jumps to the heart game.

There is nothing to the play. South wins the second trick with his king of diamonds, draws trumps, knocks out the ace of clubs and makes five odd.

Ask the Jacobys

Several readers have wanted to know what the notrump opener rebids over a Stayman response when he holds four cards in both majors.

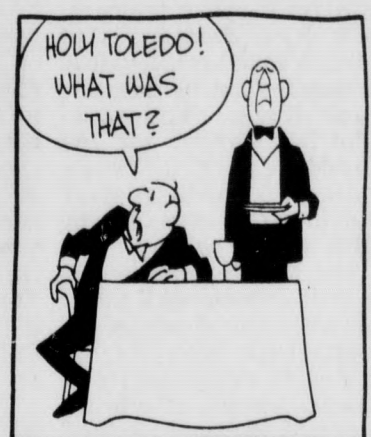

More partnerships bid spades. The Jacobys do this except that if the hearts are much better they bid two hearts, not two spades.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Falcons break into East Bay poll

Foothill High School marked yet another surprise yesterday by being selected number 15 in the East Bay Prep Football Poll.

Granada came within one point of second place and settled for third, up one from last week. The Mats received two first place votes.

San Ramon dropped from 10th to 13th, while Dublin slipped to honorable mention. Livermore and Monte Vista, both honorable mentions last week, failed to receive recognition.

College Park remained number one, while Hayward moved from third to second with its unblemished record of 7-0. Alhambra continued its downward trend, falling to sixth behind Campolindo.

The Falcons, 4-3 on the year and 3-1 in the East Bay Athletic League, face Monte Vista in another stiff test Friday night in Alamo.

The first-year varsity school, tied for first in the EBAL with Granada and San Ramon, sends a well-balanced team into the affair with the Mustangs.

The Falcons dominated Dublin, 12-0, while Monte Vista dropped to 2-2 after a disappointing 35-6 defeat at the hands of Granada.

Brad Cotton, with 260 yards on the year, teams up with Russ Humphreys to carry a solid backfield that is rounded out by quarterback Kevin Henderson, who has passed for 209 yards. Craig Johnson gained 50 yards against Dublin and is an excellent third running back.

The Mustangs came out of their debacle with Granada with some good signs in quarterback Bart Adams and wide receiver Dave Cowan. Adams, after being benched in the previous week's game with California, responded with 10 out of 15 passes completed for 143 yards. Cowan hauled in seven of those aeriels for 114 yards.

Adams moved into third in the passing statistics, with 329 yards after four games. Cowan, meanwhile, is tied with John Arnaudon of San Ramon for total number of catches (21), but trails in yardage, 333-306.

Arnaudon and his Lobo teammates travel to Pleasanton to meet the improved Amador Dons at Patterson Field.

Amador utilized the talents of Rob Flores, Pat Inglesby and Mike Goodison to derail Livermore, 20-7. Flores, a dark-horse in the race for the EBAL's leading rusher, gained 96 yards against the Cowboys and now has 501 for the season. He trails Granada's leader Vance Rushing by a mere 30 yards, while trailing Dublin's Jim Boulware by 28.

Goodison has 11 catches for 199 yards for Amador, without even playing in the first game. Inglesby has passed for 256 yards and sports a respectable 41% completion mark.

An interesting situation developed for the Wolves Friday night when Troy

Thomas, the EBAL's leading passer, was benched in favor of reinstated quarterback Guy Houston, who responded with 11 of 14 pass completions and 131 yards in a 26-21 win over tough California.

Lyle Setencich now has the problem of deciding which of his two super-quarterbacks to use. Most EBAL coaches probably wish they had the same problem.

The Grizzlies face Granada Saturday on the Mats' field. Tom Woodmansee continues to display an excellent passing arm for the Bears, with nine of 14 pass completions against San Ramon for 100 yards.

Woodmansee led the Bears to a 21-0 lead before they squandered it in the final half-quarter.

Chris Miller has tagged the ball 34 times for 332 yards to lead the Cal rushing game.

Granada's passers, Steve Robison and Bob Parness, combined for 208 yards against Monte Vista Saturday, outgaining their entire EBAL season to that point.

Brian McSharry increased his pass reception number to 13, with 215 yards and two touchdowns in four games.

Rushing, although having his worst running game of the season by gaining 85 yards, still maintains a slim two-yard lead over Boulware in the EBAL rushing statistics, 532-530.

NASL changes for coming year

Owners of the 20 North American Soccer League franchises approved a longer schedule for 1977, chose Portland as site of Soccer Bowl-77, expanded the playoff format, and conditionally approved two franchise shifts at their annual meeting held last week in Bloomington, Minnesota.

The regular season will consist of 26 games as opposed to 24 in 1976. Opening games may be scheduled as early as April 8 and the final regular season contests will be played August 7.

A three-week playoff period was approved — it lasted just two weeks in 1976 — with 12 teams participating. The top three teams in each division will qualify and play will follow division and conference lines.

Second round competition will be decided on a home-and-home basis as will the Conference Championships, both of which were single game eliminations in 1976. The NASL Championship will be decided in Portland on August 27 or 28 in Soccer Bowl-77.

"The feeling was that the home-and-home format will eliminate any home field advantage at a crucial stage of the competition," said commissioner Phil Woosnam.

Alternatives to the penalty kick tie-breaker were discussed at the meeting and alterations of the procedure will be formally presented for approval at an early December meeting.

ing of the League owners. A mid-November deadline was set for receiving formal applications for expansion franchises and final action on expansion will be taken at the December meeting.

Conditional approval was granted for the San Diego Jaws franchise to relocate in Las Vegas, Nevada and conditional approval of a franchise switch from San Antonio to Hawaii also was given. The final Hawaii approval requires the franchise to obtain an acceptable lease on Aloha Stadium in Honolulu. Similar conditions were set in Las Vegas.

In other matters, Woosnam's recommendation to add a full-time director of officials to the NASL staff was approved; consideration was given to bringing up to four World Class referees to the NASL to officiate games and work in the area of referee development; Walter R. Daggatt, managing general partner of the Seattle Sounders, was elected to a five-year term on the NASL executive committee, while Clive Toye of New York, Ward Lay of San Antonio/Hawaii, Bob Hermann of St. Louis, and George Strawbridge of Tampa Bay were reelected; and a proposal was made to increase the minimum number of North Americans on 30-man NASL rosters from 13 to 16 — final approval of roster size and composition to come at the December meeting.

Kane marking 'em up at San Jose State

SAN JOSE — Rick Kane, San Jose State University running back, stood by his locker, gingerly removing adhesive tape from his battered left side.

He paused, looked up, and said, "My uncle from Kansas City flew in for the game. He's probably gone home by now."

Indeed, Saturday's 21-7 Spartan win over a physical Fresno State club was hardly cause for a parade. San Jose State, vowing to erase the mistakes that has throttled it in the past, was tagged with 14 penalties for 134 yards.

And the running attack, with Kane and mammoth fullback Lewis Nelson, fizzled incredibly when the Spartans failed to score in three tries from the Bulldog one yard line.

But Kane gave the crowd one of its biggest charges in the first quarter when his fourth carry of the night, a six-yarder, pushed Kane over Johnny Johnson's career rushing mark of 1700 yards.

Kane the former Amador Valley High School back, finished the game with 16 carries for 63 yards after suffering a second period hip injury.

But the East Bay Athletic League's other contribution to the Spartan varsity, Dublin's Rayford Roberson, made sure the team's lackluster performance would at least be a winning one. Roberson, regarding by team mates as a skinny Dick Butkus, registered nine tackles, recovered two fumbles and nearly obliterated Fresno punt returner Mark Filice, causing another fumble.

Despite Roberson's weekly heroics, it was Kane's record-setting burst with 1:54 left in the first quarter, that electrified the crowd. Receiving a cue from the public address announcer, the 16,500 onlookers gave a sustained ovation to the man who's supplied 13 touchdowns and 14 wins in 19 games since transferring from Oregon.

Reflecting on the new mark, Kane said, "Sure, it means something. I'm re-writing the record books."

After a disastrous stint in Eugene and one and one-half seasons at San Jose, Kane said his most memorable game was against the University of the Pacific last season.

The six-foot, 190-pound tailback carried the ball 30 times for 196 yards in the Spartans 31-14 win over the Tigers.

Kane noted that his biggest disappointment was the bitter 27-24 loss to California last year in the final minute of play.

Barring any more injuries this season, which in itself would be a minor miracle, Kane stands a good shot at being chosen in the opening rounds of the National Football League draft.

"Yes, I think I have a good shot at playing professionally," Kane said. "Most of the teams have looked at me."

Will his recent leg ailments, and now a hip injury, hamper his chances of being drafted? "Hell yes!" Kane replied. "Who wants a running back who can play only one quarter per game?"

Kane, who gained over 2600 yards at Amador, solicited 13 tickets from his team mates so friends and family could his record-setting performance Saturday.

"And I had a terrible game," he apologized.

Possibly, but one of very few. Last season, Kane rolled to six 100-yard games, including a string of five straight. He finished the year with 1144 yards, the top single-season mark for an SJS runner.

Kane has hit the century mark only three times this year, but injuries have played a major role in limiting his yardage.

He had only three carries against Hawaii, did not suit up for the Stanford game and rushed only ten times in the 43-16 loss to Cal.

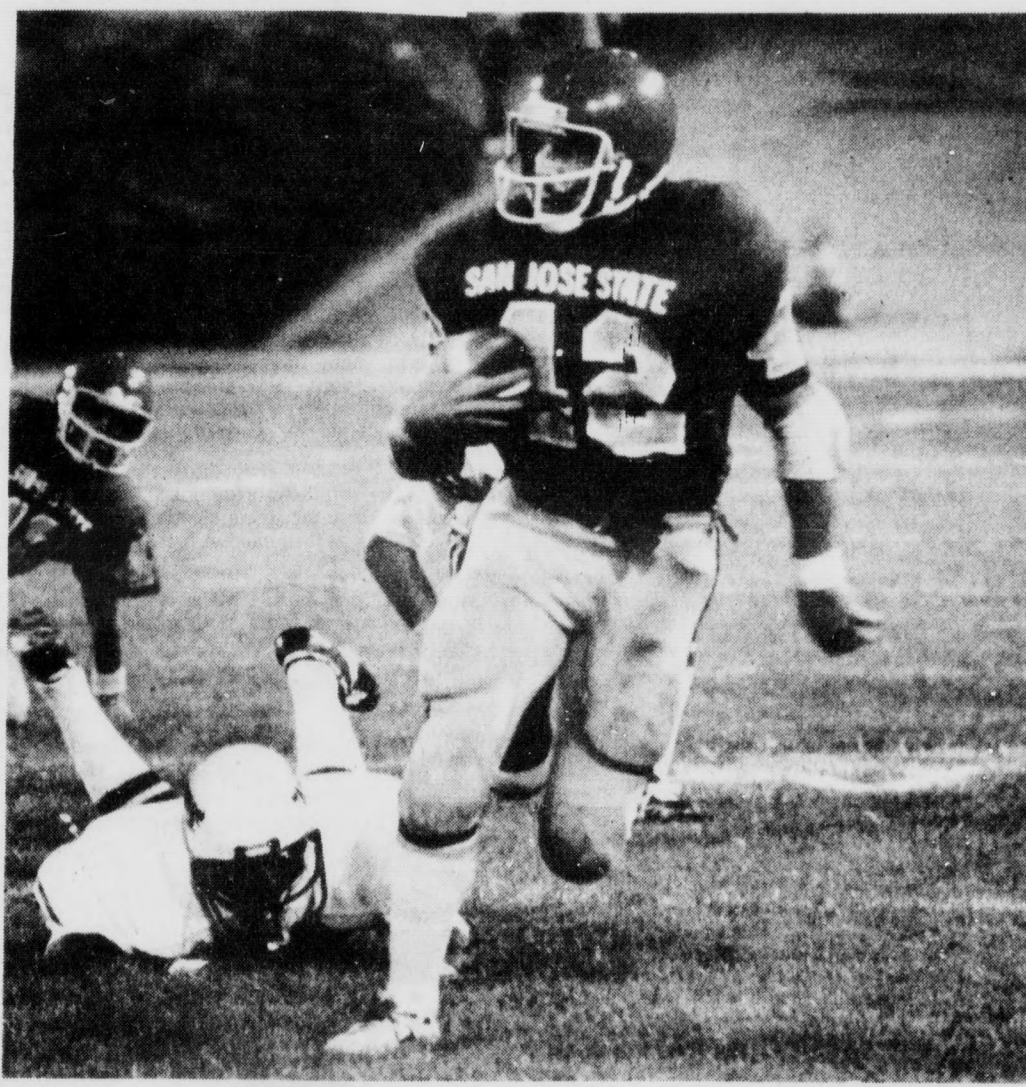

Now, after suffering a hip pointer on a futile run in Fresno's goal line stand, Kane's next outing could be questionable.

"I'll be able to play, but will probably miss two days of practice (smile)," Kane said.

Perhaps Kane's greatest fan is Roberson. Rayford, rarely, if ever at a loss for words, said, "Kane is to our offense what I am to our defense."

Roberson noted the anonymity of his and Kane's home towns. Rayford, possibly stretching the idea of brotherhood, boasted, "Man, nobody ever heard of Pleasanton or Dublin until us two niggers came to town."

Malone Sent Away After 5 Days

HOUSTON — The Buffalo Braves traded Moses Malone to the Houston Rockets Monday claiming they could not meet his demand for more playing time would not be a problem for the 22-year-old star.

"I'd hope he would play more than 24 minutes for us," Nissalke said after the Rockets gave up first-round draft choices in 1977 and 1978 for the 6-11 former American Basketball Association star.

"If he was only going to play 24 minutes for us, we wouldn't have traded for him in the first place," said Nissalke, who tutored Malone as a 19-year-old rookie with the Utah Stars in 1975.

Malone came to Buffalo last week from Portland for $323,000 and their No. 1 draft choice.

Buffalo general manager Bob MacKinnon said Malone and his attorney had agreed to terms but later "they wanted a clause stating he would play 24 minutes a game."

"I don't know anything about the Portland or Buffalo situations," Nissalke said. "I can only say we were interested in acquiring his services. He is a fine player and can help us."

"Nasty" happy as 49ers roll

Cedrick Hardman's nickname may be "Nasty," but Saturday night following the San Francisco 49ers' sixth win of the season, he was as happy as could be.

"We just wanted to win," was his adamant comment when asked if he and his defensive teammates had been going for a shutout in their 15-0 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

"Like Monty (coach Monty Clark) says, statistics don't matter as long as you win. We're enjoying the hell out of it."

Indeed, the Niners were pleased with themselves, especially the defense, which added eight sacks, four by tackle Cleveland Elam, to its 29 total.

The Falcons could do very little correct Saturday night, gaining a net minus-39 yards passing and 83 rushing for 44 total offensive yards, all to the obvious pleasure of the 50,240 Candlestick Park fans.

Those same fans weren't quite as enamored with the 49er offense, which generated 245 total yards but little in the way of excitement.

"Offensively, we did some things well but we couldn't really get anything going," Clark acknowledged. "We had some people like Del Williams and John Watson out. But they got a week's rest and we came out healthy otherwise."

"The injuries have scattered us a little offensively, but getting all our people healthy will help us put it together better offensively."

This week, when the Niners played the Cardinals in St. Louis, the defense is likely to need all the help it can get.

"I'll be ready," Hardman proclaimed when asked about the Cardinals.

"They say we have a soft schedule, but there's no such thing as a soft schedule in the NFL."

The 49ers certainly don't have an easy set of games ahead, playing Washington Nov. 7, then at Atlanta before hosting the Los Angeles Rams and Minnesota Vikings on successive weekends (Nov. 21 and 29).

Hardman gave defensive tackles Elam and Jimmy Webb a lot of credit for Saturday's shutout: "They met the challenge. In a way, we knew what Cleveland could do, but the big surprise has been Jimmy. He's opened avenues for everyone."

Linebacker Frank Nunnley agreed: "The young guys have really come in and worked their tails off. Our defense is at least as good as it was last year and the offense is much better. Our front four (Hardman, Elam, Webb, and Tommy Hart) has been magnificent."

Cornerback Jim Johnson, after being awarded the game ball, said, "The defense has just been working so well together as a unit and everyone working well as an individual that overall we're doing a great job."

"All we do is keep them off the scoreboard. I think we can maintain our intensity and keep it up week to week. We aren't sitting back on what we have done, we are always looking at the next opponent and trying to improve."

Saturday's win was the fifth in a row for the Niners, upping their NFC-West leading record to 6-1. This is the first time since 1957 that San Francisco has won five straight.

A sixth would please Cedrick Hardman to no ends.

—by Jim Carr

In Los Angeles, the Rams have been going with whoever is healthy. Usually, that means third stringer Pat Haden. Starter Jame Harris first broke his thumb and then injured his shoulder, and backup Ron Jaworski broke his shoulder in his first game as the replacement for Harris.

The relief pitchers have proven more than adequate in most cases. Perhaps the most successful has been rookie Mike Kruczek of the Steelers, who has won two straight games since Bradshaw was kayoed. In four games, with Coach Chuck Noll calling the signals from the sidelines, Kruczek has completed 20 of 36 passes for 237 yards. And he has the Steelers believing they can stage the kind of nine straight victory turnaround that Baltimore used last year to reverse a 1-4 start and gain the playoffs.

"Sure, why not?" said

Danny White hit seven of 10 for 145 yards and two TDs after replacing Staubach for Dallas. Staubach, enjoying his finest NFL season, insisted he would be ready for Washington next week but Coach Tom Landry wasn't so sure.

A shaky Raider homecoming

The Oakland Raiders' triumphant return to the Coliseum yesterday was not your perfect football show.

Cliff Branch, whose 88-touchdown reception from Ken Stabler in the second quarter helped the Raiders to an 18-14 win over the vastly improved Green Bay Packers, said the Raiders were not all that excited about being back home.

"It was very strange, coming back to the Coliseum," the fleet wide receiver explained. "We had mixed emotions. We all look forward to a real good second half."

Yesterday's game marked the end of the first half for the National Football League, and the Raiders assume a safe two-game lead over the Denver Broncos and San Diego Chargers in the American Conference Western Division.

The Raiders, who take on Denver next week in Oakland, survived a flurry of penalties and kicking problems to finish off the Bart Starr-coached Pack.

In doing so, rookie place-kicker Fred Steinfort had the most miserable day of his career, having two extra-point attempts blocked. On the third TD, punter Ray Guy missed wide right with a kick that turned out to be a perfect spiral.

"He's had a problem with a pulled groin," said coach John Madden. "Sidewinder kickers have a problem with getting the ball up in the air with an injury like this. That changes the whole game around."

Steinfort, who remains a question mark after the injury as to his stability the remainder of the season, said, "I aggravated it in pre-season, and it's been bothering me the last few weeks. I can't feel any pain, and yet I can't feel anything at all."

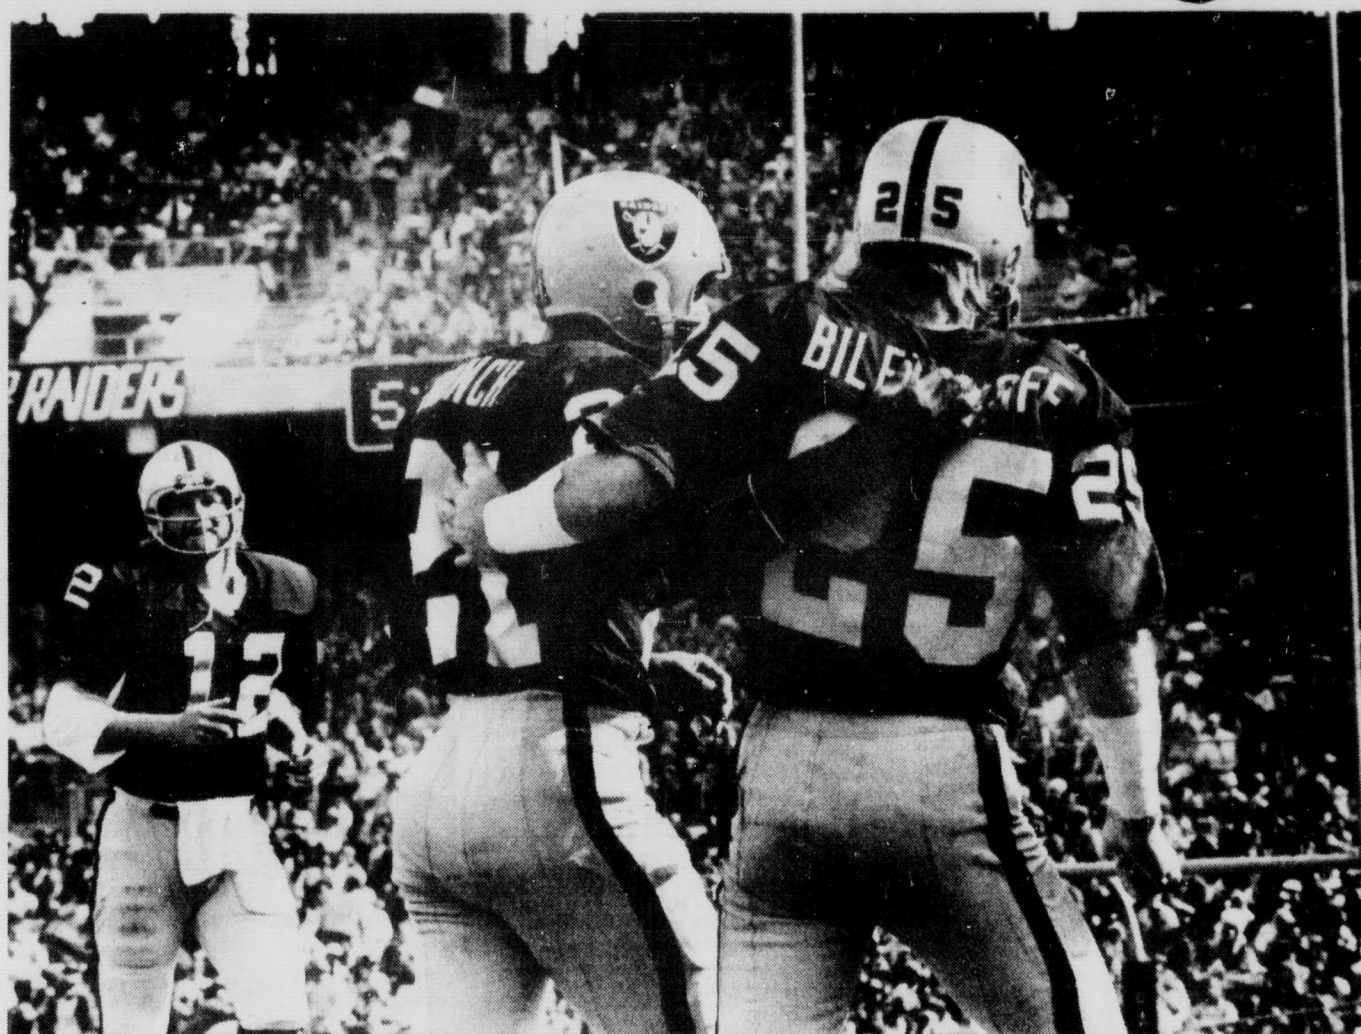

All of which points to the Raider story to date. Although the Raiders have fought long and hard for every victory this year, they are well ahead in their division. With a record of 6-1, the Raiders have yielded more points than they have scored themselves.

"Guy, when confronted with the possibility of place-kicking and punting, retorted with a laugh, "No way. I blew my chance on that missed extra point. If they don't feel Freddie can do it, they'll send someone else up."

The Raiders scored all 18 of their points in the second quarter. Tight end Dave Casper hauled in a 27-yard pass from Stabler at the left flag, but Steinfort's PAT was blocked by Fred Carr.

On the second TD, Branch hauled in Stabler's pass at midfield between the Packers' defenders Johnny Gray and M.C. McCoy, who lassoed Branch at the 48 and tripped in the process, leaving Branch free to run the final 50 yards. The pass-run play of 88 yards was Stabler's longest scoring completion in his career.

"I made an adjustment and came up with the ball," said Branch, who slightly hesitated before the catch. "We were sort of pickin' on him (McCoy). The rookie cornerback for the Packers had a rough afternoon.

Once again, Steinfort's PAT attempt was blocked by Carr and a host of others.

Green Bay scored first on Ken Payne's 57-yard catch Lynn Dickey, who finished the game with an excellent 303 yards passing on 22 of 34 completions.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Pack made a rush for the Oakland Goal and had a first and goal at the three. The Raider defense toughened up, though, and stopped the Packers on two straight runs by Willard Harrell.

Facing a third down from the one, John Brockington went off right tackle but was plummety by Charles Philpaw, Dave Rowe and Monte Johnson. On fourth down from the one, Dickey faked a handoff and went back to pass, but Phil Villapiano rushed hard and forced Dickey to throw the ball into the dirt, giving the ball back to the Raiders.

Johnson later admitted it was all a guessing game. "We got in a situation down there where we were trying to read the backs and make a decision on which way to slant the line. Lord willing, I made the right decision. We slanted the right way."

Linebacker Ted Hendricks echoed Johnson's analysis. "It was a 50-50 chance, and we guessed the right way."

Green Bay, undaunted, came right back and scored with 6:34 to go on Harrell's sweep of right end for four yards, cutting the Oakland lead to 18-14.

With those three missed extra points looming bigger, and with George Blanda no doubt comfortably sitting at home in Chicago watching the debacle on TV with a slight snicker, the Packers drove to the Oakland 25 with 1:25 to go.

But Skip "Dr. Death" Thomas killed another team when he stepped in front of a Dickey pass intended for Rich McGeorge at the 17-yard line and returned it to the 29.

could talk about after the game were the flag-happy officials. A total of 370 yards in penalties were marshaled off against the teams, and they were big ones. "The ref's control the game too much. Every time you get the ball inside of the 20, you get pushed back and back and back."

In specifics, the holding calls bothered Upshaw. "There's nobody in the NFL that holds, so to speak. It's not like going out and grabbing a guy," he explained. "If you stick your arm out or block with an open hand it's holding."

But the Raiders managed to win despite the adversity and it left coach John Madden with a reasoning philosophy.

"We still won and we didn't play our best," Madden said. "That wasn't one of our best games. With all the penalties, it was tough for both teams to set any kind of continuity. But you're going to have those types of games."

The coliseum crowd looks in awe as Ray Guy attempts to boot the extra point on third quarter TD in yesterday's game. Guy missed wide right as regular place-kicker Fred Steinfort watched from the sidelines after missing first two PAT attempts.

EBAL products lead Chabot

HAYWARD — Former East Bay Athletic League players were again in the limelight as Chabot College regained a loss-column tie for the Golden Gate Conference lead with a 41-0 whitewash of Laney here Saturday night.

Former Dublin High School kicker Steve Duncan opened the scoring with a 31-yard field goal and ex-Granada High School quarterback John Walden wrapped it up, catching a 2-yard TD pass from substitute QB Ron Jones.

Walden's former Granada team mate, Steve Jaeger, rushed for 62 yards on 14 carries.

A rare Jaycee honor

PLEASANTON — Jim Hertl has become the second Pleasanton Jaycee in the 21 year history of the club to receive the Jaycee International Senatorial Award.

Hertl was presented the award by the local chapter at a recognition dinner recently with 100 fellow members and their wives present. He received a standing ovation as he accepted one of the highest awards possible for a Jaycee.

The senatorship conferred a life membership on Hertl at the club's international level. Only one Jaycee in 10,000 ever achieves such a high status.

Al Dutchover is the only other Pleasanton club member to receive the award. To become a JCI senator, rigid qualifications must be met and a screening committee comprised of state and national Jaycees are final judges after a local chapter submits a candidate.

Hertl has been an active member of the local chapter for eight years during which he served as president, state director, and secretary. He lives in Pleasanton with his wife, Helen, and their daughters Julie and Nikki.

Sonoma's Halloween carnival

LIVERMORE — The Sonoma School PTA will present the annual Halloween Carnival and Auction on Friday.

The carnival will be in the school's multipurpose room and the auction in the library of the school at 543 Sonoma Ave. (off Wall Street near Granada High.)

The carnival will be longer this year: 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. Many new games have been added and a "Little Kids Only" area will be open in the main corridor.

The annual auction features merchandise and services donated by Livermore merchants as well as Sonoma parents and teachers. The auction opens at 7 p.m.

There will be a benefit drawing for prizes: a motorcycle, a skateboard and a walkie-talkie. Tickets are also good for $1.25 at Pizza Arcade.

For tickets, call Judy Stephens at 455-1064.

Livermore fund O.K. tonight

LIVERMORE — Livermore Unified School District trustees will be having a special meeting tonight, beginning 7:30 p.m. in the Education Center, 685 Las Positas Blvd. (at Murietta.)

The only item scheduled for public session is approval of the general fund and revenue limit bill warrants. Copies of the list of bills to be paid is available at the Education Center or the library for public perusal.

Joe Michell TAPS social

Joe Michell School will host an ice cream social through the TAPS (Teacher and Parent Society) Tuesday, Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m.

There will be musical entertainment, a clown for children, and all-you-can-eat ice cream. A Tupperware purchase area will bring in a percentage of sales for the TAPS fund.

Cost of the evening is 50 cents per person, or $2 per family maximum.

Dublin High talent show

DUBLIN — A talent show to raise funds for Ensemble Choir uniforms will be held Thursday, Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the Dublin High School Little Theatre.

In addition to student musical acts, for the first

Pizza day at Alisal

PLEASANTON — Fifth graders at Alisal School will sponsor a "Pizza Day" Tuesday, Nov. 9 from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. with funds earned going to the Outdoor Education Program.

The fund-raiser will be held at Straw Hat Pizza, 2953 Hopyard Rd.

Proceeds will help pay the way to camp for 106 Alisal fifth graders.

Pizzas purchased anytime during the day, including takeout orders, will count toward helping the Alisal Outdoor Education program.

Penny Williams is student director for the show.

WHAT NEXT?

She says we must all live in smaller houses, clustered together on smaller lots. She would change our zoning laws to achieve this. She says that's the way they do things in Europe. Now we know why so many Europeans want to come to America!

She also likes the American 1½ acre ranchette she lives on in Livermore. Can't say that we blame her. Nothing like that in Europe, you know.

Award for park manager

Richard Trudeau, general manager of the East Bay Regional Park District, has been named outstanding professional in the U.S. "for leadership and service to parks and recreation."

The award was from representatives of some 5,000 park and recreation agencies, presented to Trudeau at the 1976 Congress of the National Recreation and Park Association in Boston.

Trudeau, who lives in Lafayette, accepted the honor at the annual banquet meeting of the Commissioners - Board Members Branch of NRPA in the Copley Plaza Hotel ballroom.

The association's annual Award of Excellence goes "to the park and/or recreation professional staff member, serving a tax-supported organization, who, in the eyes of lay members of boards and commissions, has performed an outstanding job."

As chief executive of the two-county park district, Trudeau has guided EBRPD's sometimes controversial program of expansion, unparalleled in the nation, which has seen the creation of 10 new parks, shorelines, preserves, open space, wilderness and recreation areas in the past five years.

Among specific accomplishments cited in the award were "leading EBRPD to the formation of a new system of parks along the Bay and opening up lands and waters for recreation that have been closed to the public since California settlement."

Greyhound man's backlash

George Hardie, the man behind the dog racing initiative, Proposition 13, came out swinging today against the "Charlie McCarthys of the horse racing industry" and punctuated his actions with a multimillion dollar law suit in Superior Court against three officials and 50 other John Does.

Hardie charged Los Angeles District Attorney John Van de Kamp in four causes of action, one with lying to the Glendale Board of Realtors concerning a harness race won by Hardie; charged Assemblyman Robert C. Cline with falsely claiming a bribery attempt some weeks after the alleged encounter was supposed to have taken place, and charged Gates with linking Prop. 13 backers with Arizona greyhound racing interests.

In a separate action, filed last week in Superior Court, Dr. Robert M. Karns, one of Hardie's principal supporters, sued Assemblyman Cline for general damages in the sum of $1 million and punitive and exemplary damages in the sum of $1 million for linking him to Hardie in the alleged bribery attempt charge.

"And this is only the beginning," Hardie told a news conference. "Before this suit is over, we expect to have everyone who has contributed to the malicious and slanderous campaign against Prop. 13 involved."

Hardie was particularly bitter against the Fair Political Practices Commission for having forced him to disclose his financial backers, while permitting a Communist candidate in Northern California to withhold names of contributors to protect them against harassment.

"This is a double standard of the most vicious nature," Hardie claimed. "On one hand they protect an avowed Communist, while on the other hand they not only encourage harassment of greyhound backers, but take leadership in that harassment. Whatever happened to fair play and the 14th amendment?"

Hardie was equally bitter about public officials at all levels, from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr. all the way down to city officials in San Francisco, San Diego and Los Angeles. "In their subservience to the horse racing industry, many of these people have put politics ahead of principle."

Inventor workshop tonight

PLEASANTON — So you've got a clever invention.

How do you market it? That is the thorniest problem facing an amateur inventor. And it will be the subject of a talk tonight, 7:30 p.m., at a meeting of the Livermore chapter of Inventors Workshop International.

All inventors are invited to attend, whether they are IWI members or not. There is no admission charge.

Melvin Fuller, president and founder of the nonprofit IWI, will introduce to local inventors several methods of licensing that the subsidiary Inventors Licensing and Marketing Agency offers to inventors.

The meeting is at the Vineyard Mobile Villa Community Room, 3273 Vineyard Ave., Pleasanton. Sherman Jenkins of Livermore heads the local chapter.

Swim classes begin Nov. 8

PLEASANTON — New aquatic classes begin November 8 at Pleasanton Aquatic Center.

Slim and trim, a water exercise class, is scheduled at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., adult lessons at 11 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday from November 8 to December 3. Fee for each class is $12.

Swim and stay fit and recreational swimming continues on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from noon to 1 p.m. Lap swimming and swim and stay fit for adults is scheduled Monday through Friday from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Admission to the evening program is by use of the swim pass card.

the Valley needs "U"

MEASURE "U" OPENS THE DOOR TO MORE JOBS IN THE VALLEY

Because:

- ★ It Will Encourage ADDITIONAL INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT
- ★ It Will Foster NEW BUSINESSES & RETAIL STORES
- ★ It Will Provide a Needed Stimulus to the COMMERCIAL BUILDING and CONSTRUCTION TRADES

The jobs that come with new industries, both their construction and their operation; the positions that will be available in retail stores and businesses; even the construction of the pipeline itself; All of these jobs and those in satellite services that they will create, are impeded until we reach a solution to our valley-wide problem of effluent disposal.

Ballot Measure "U" removes that roadblock!

TODAY You Can ENDORSE TOMORROW

Vote YES on Ballot Measure "U" - November 2
